Says a Lexington dispatch: A touching incident in connection with the Confederate reunion held here was the meeting between Col. D. W. Tribble, of Richmond, and Mr. Isaac Hutchinson, of this city, both of whom were members of Gen. John H. Morgan's command. The men had not seen each other since the memorable struggle of 40 years ago in which they both took part. When Col. Tribble left Camp Chase, where he was a prisoner, he was furnished money by Mr. Hutchinson to buy clothes and get back home. Their meeting resulted in many old memories being revived.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Hyomei Only Guaranteed Cure for This Common and Disagreeable Disease.

Hyomei cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane and effectually drives this disease from the system.

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs.

Offensive breath, dryness of the nose, pain across the eyes, pain in back of the head, pain in front of the head, tendency to take cold, burning pain in the throat, hawking to clear the throat, pain in the chest, cough, a stitch in side, losing of flesh, variable appetite, low spirited at times, raising of frothy mucus, expectorating yellow matter, difficulty in breathing, frequent sneezing, huskiness of voice, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose at night, aching of the body, droppings in the throat, mouth open while sleeping, tickling back of the palate, formation of crusts in the nose, dryness of the throat in the morning, loss of strength, spasms of coughing, cough short and hacking, cough worse nights and mornings, loss in vital force, a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest.

Hyomei will destroy activity of all catarrhal germs in the respiratory organs and in a few weeks the cure will be complete.

This is a strong statement, but Penny emphasizes it by agreeing to refund your money if Hyomei does not cure.

THE Lexington Democrat makes a great campaign offer of its Sunday and daily edition from now until after the November election for $1. This is about a cent a copy and is not only the cheapest daily you can get but the best democratic organ you can read during the present campaign. This office will take your order for the Democrat but the cash must invariably accompany it.

A Trip To Boston and Other Historic Cities.

Early impressions made from childhood's First History, and the advanced works which I read later on of my country's history, produced in me a desire to visit some of the first battle fields made famous as being the beginning or foundation of one of the greatest countries on earth, and still greater desire to meet with my comrades and participate in the grand parade in Boston, induced me to make my recent Eastern tour.

On the 14th day of August, I and my traveling companion, Jacob Rigney, boarded the Q & C at McKinney at 1:18 P. M., arriving at Cincinnati at 7 o'clock. After having been transferred from the Central to the Pennsylvania Lines' depot, we boarded one of their splendid trains at 8 o'clock, traveling by way of Columbus, Pittsburg, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, thence to Jersey City, New York, New Haven, Conn., and Providence, R. I., arriving in Boston about 10 A. M. after two days and nights of continuous traveling. Being a little tired I rested a short while, breakfasted and then sought Boston Common, near which point the parade of the old boys started. This parade is conceded by all to be one of the most successful and interesting made by the Grand Army since its organization. It is true that it was quite warm, but there had been constructed at proper intervals stands from which the ladies of Boston (God bless them) issued sparkling cups of lemonade to the veterans as they passed. And this refreshment coupled with the splendid music of the department bands and drum corps, inspired us with energy and we stepped to time throughout the whole line of march.

After visiting many points in Boston, such as the place where the Tea Party came off, the Navy Yard and the White Squadron, which was lying in the harbor, and witnessing the successful launching of a new vessel, the Columbia, we visited Charlestown, Bunker Hill monument and Charles river, where the British fleet operated during the battle of Bunker Hill. Also the Commons, where the school boys were insulted, for which they demanded redress from British officers.

We had the pleasure of standing on the battle field of Old Lexington, where the first shots were fired at the beginning of the Revolutionary war, June 19, 1775. We then traveled on to Concord, where another battle was fought on the same day. We saw several houses of Revolutionary fame, one of them the Hancock house, from which he and Adams made their escape from British soldiers when Paul Revere made his famous ride to carry news of the plans of the British.

Markers and monuments stand on these old battlefields. Gen. Raum made a speech at Concord standing at the foot of a bronze statue of a Minute Man. A Kentuckian made a good talk, standing on the ground and line of battle at Old Lexington. Veterans of Maine, Vermont and Massachusetts, with their wives and daughters, gave him a hearty ovation. JOAN RIGNEY.

Sour Stomach.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. What Is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in constipation, headache or liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly readjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at Penny's Drug Store.
